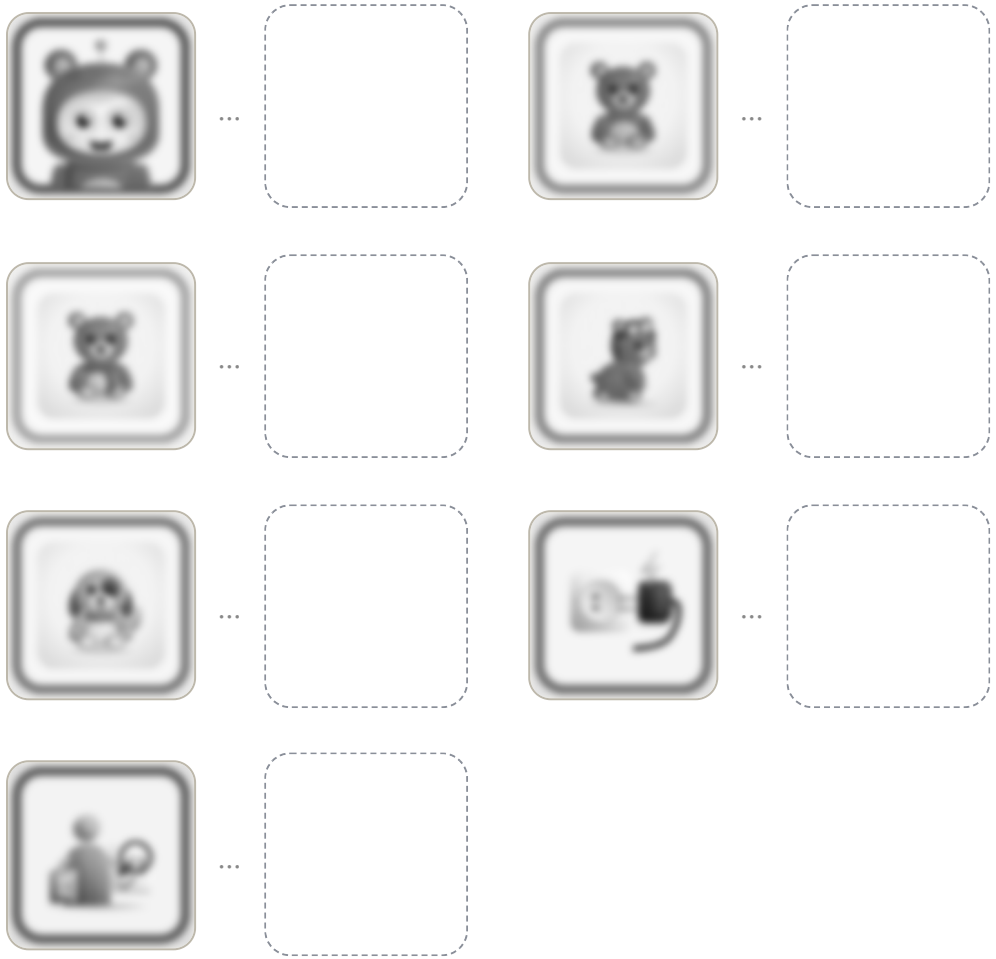
Little Bears: match the stickers

Stick the sticker in the empty box next to the clue. Blurred picture: like a computer that sees few details.



The colour of the sticker's frame is not a clue: look at the picture.

Little Bears: match the stickers

Stick the sticker in the empty box next to the clue. Blurred picture: like a computer that sees few details.

The colour of the sticker's frame is not a clue: look at the picture.

Bip's Club · bipsclub.com

Little Bears: teacher's key

Read the sentence next to the picture when the child matches the sticker. How does a computer learn?

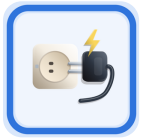
Bip is a cartoon robot, our helper in the film.

A computer learns from examples, for example from bears.

Different examples help it learn.

We check with a new picture that the computer did not know.

The examples also include pictures without a bear.



A computer needs electricity.

A person checks important answers.